

Tribune Office,
26th July, 1845.

Dear Friend:

Will of the first of August Pic Nic will you attend?
For the sake of the cause, I want to get accounts of them all for the Tribune. Can you help me?
Or can any of your sisters? I have written to Edmund Quincy and Charles K. Whipple on the subject, but without knowing ^{either or both of them} whether they will attend the same celebration with yourself.
The most chief incidents of the day, done up in a brief letter, would do good among the Tribune's numerous readers, and I am sure that the time necessary is realoring such a service could not be better spent for the cause.

Of course you know we shall not want all the details which would be appropriate to the Liberator or Standard, but only a condensed view of matters of general interest.

I know it is unnecessary for me to apologize for thus suggesting a method of which you may subserve the good causes.

Mrs. Johnson left here last evening for the Water-Case establishments at New Lebanon, where she will remain a few days to rest from her labors. Rest and recreation she needs more than medical treatment of any sort; but having friends at New Lebanon, she thought she could spend a week or ten days there very agreeably.

Remember me kindly to your sisters, and believe me, as ever,

Yours truly,

P. J. London.

P.S. Do forward a letter on Saturday if you can - if not, on Monday. Send by mail.
For fine arts it is not worth while to trouble the Expresses.
